

NDMVP's Karmaveer Adv. Baburao Ganpatrao Thakare College of Engineering, Nashik-13 Department of MBA

The word "Bandhan is synonymous for committed to social and Environmental responsibility. This project has a strategic focus towards ethics (values) and sustainability (results and impacts). We believe that these three dimensions should be incorporated and integrated into our Management students, in an interdisciplinary manner, aligned with our mission, identity and daily activities.

Project Bandhan has associated with Sampoorna Bamboo Kendra (SBK), founded bysocial workers Sunil & Nirupama Deshpande, was started during the mid-90s from tribal village of Lawada in Melghat Forest. Melghat, situated in Amravati District of Maharashtra, India is a tribal region with amongst the highest numbers of malnutrition cases SBK was started initially as a means to solve the malnutrition problem in the region and to help improve upon the many other social problems that plague the region.

Today with the advent of mass produced goods, artisan based products are having a hardtime competing at these price points and hence artisan communities around the world andin India are dwindling Hence, the ultimate Misson behind Project Bandhan work is to generate livelihoods in the Melghat region by offering trainings in bamboo. Bamboo was chosen as it is an eco-friendly sustainable renewable resource with remarkable strength and flexibility, locally available in Melghat area. In support of this work, Department of MBA is involved with Marketing and Selling of Bamboo Rakhi and DIY Rakhi Kits for Schools.

a.For theTribal'sof theMelghat:

The part of the revenue generated through the Project Bandhan Activity is utilized in the establishment of "Gram Dnyan Vidyapeeth" a skill development center cum universitywhich is working on the development of art forms of the Melghat tribal's that they preserved and reared for generations.

The Project Bandhan is proving to be a sustainable medium and a model of provision of the employmentandmarkettotheproductsmanufacturedbythetribalsoftheMelghat. This easy to replicate model resulted in the spread of the awareness and demand for the Raakhi of Melghat tribals in various districts, states and countries of the Globe. Thus, proving to be a prominent step towards alleviating the poverty and fighting the predominant issue of Malnutrition in Melghat.

Revenue Generation Phase

As a result of the restless efforts of the students during the Raksha-badhan season results in the generation of the revenue through the sell of the DIY Raakhi Kits and the readymade Bamboo Rakhis. This generated revenue is then handed over to the Sampoorn bamboo Kendra, Melghat– an NGO woking for the well-being of the tribals of the Melghat Area.

ProjectBandhaninMedia Media

Management

The Local and National Media support to the Project Bandhan has played a very crucial part in garnering the expected support from the masses. The local marathi newspapers such as Sakal, Deshdoot, Pudhari, Lokmat, Divya Marathi etc. cover the news right form the awarenessphaseoftheproduct. WhereasthenewsnationalnewspapersuchasTimesofIndia,ZeeNews, Lokmat Times etc. provide the leverage that the project needed for scaling up. The Students of the Institute while carryingout the Project Bandhan Activity, also learn and manage these media coverages thus adding an extra skillset under their belt.
