5. S.Y. B. Tech structure and Discussion:

The subject experts, Alumni representative, Industry Representatives Expert from outside of autonomous colleges shared their valuable insights and feedback regarding the structure of S.Y. BTech and M.Tech. Following suggestions were received from experts and representatives:

• Dr. Umakant Kulkarni:

- Those concepts which are missing in first year should be reflected in second year.
- Internal and external markings for courses should be finalised.
- Finalise the credits for courses and accordingly finalize marking scheme.

- Dr. Rajiv Papneja
 - Include courses such as architecture suitable for business, application specific for business, DevOps.
 - Focus on basic core subjects such as Data Structures, one can include applications of Data structures.
- Mr. Pravin Thakur
 - For UG students' thorough knowledge should be gained such that students should be able to develop software
 - PG courses should be designed in such way that it becomes mastery in industry, should be depth.
 - Focus on current trends in industry.
- Mr. Sandip Shinde
 - For PG, in PCC, one can add courses such as design patterns, software architectures, DevOps.
 - Include the member from SPPU BoS.
 - Include mini projects in first year programming course.
 - The faculty conducting lab should decide lab assignments by their own. There should not be predefined titles for lab assignments.
- Mr. Abhay Malpure
 - Prepare elective baskets as per specialisation of courses for UG.
 - Dedicate 1 year for project internship and dissertation for UG and Make dissertation 1 and dissertation 2 for 1 complete year of project in UG.
